Investigations. Compliance. Institutional strategy.

EXECUTIVE BIO

Albert Roberson, LL.B., LL.M., is the founder, chief executive officer, and board chair of Fractional Coordinator, Inc., a civil rights compliance firm serving higher education, PK-12, and public and private institutions. The firm supports colleges, universities, school districts, and employers across Title IX, Title VI, Title VII, ADA and Section 504, and the Clery Act. He also founded OnePointe, an AI-powered case management platform for universities and PK-12 districts.

Albert works at the intersection of civil rights, institutional compliance, investigations, and organizational strategy. He advises institutional leaders, counsel, and boards on investigations, compliance systems, and the decisions that follow them.

His perspective is a practitioner's. He has led civil rights compliance and investigation functions inside higher education institutions, building defensible processes, teams, and decision records. That experience shapes the firm's work: investigations built to withstand appeal, regulatory review, or litigation, and compliance systems built to outlast staff turnover.

He holds an LL.M. in U.S. law from Washington University in St. Louis School of Law, an LL.B. from Kingston University, and a B.A. in political science from the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth. He is a licensed private investigator in Oregon through the Department of Public Safety Standards and Training (DPSST PI #134854), completed the Association of Workplace Investigators Training Institute, and serves on the board of directors of 1000 Friends of Oregon. He is based in Portland, Oregon.
